

National Insights Dashboard

An Intuitive Tool to Gain Competitive Insights

Your Challenge

MONITORING THE EVER-CHANGING LANDSCAPE

To secure and maintain your competitive advantage, your commercial teams must have ready access to national sales and market share data for each of your markets. The time you spend sifting through the data for relevant insights should be minimized in order to maximize your capacity to respond strategically.

AN INTUITIVE TOOL, AVAILABLE THROUGHOUT THE ORGANIZATION

IQVIAs National Insights module within the PharmaReport puts insights from national market data at the disposal of your organization for rapid decision making. The dashboard accepts custom market definitions and performs different types of analyses to generate a narrative that drives action.

The module provides:

- A global overview of your sales data across regions, products, and periods
- An automated market share and growth calculation
- A full view on the profile of competitors and market joiners
- Competitive insights at the fingertips of each organization member

ANSWERS KEY BUSINESS QUESTIONS

- What is my position compared to my competitors, market by market?
- In what markets are my competitors active, and how are they evolving?
- What is the company profile of a new competitor entering my market?
- What is the main source of business for my key competitors in other markets?

The Results

INSIGHTS FROM NATIONAL MARKET DATA

Having all your national market data combined into one tool and accessible to the organization saves time in processing and reporting that can better be applied to investigating findings and drawing conclusions.

The National Insights module supports:

- Improved commercial efficiency
- A common understanding of your market position, market trends, and competition
- A strengthened product position
- A creative, collaborative mindset within your organization
- Wise investment decisions
